Feedback on the curriculum was sought and received from the key stakeholder such as Students, Teachers, Employers and Alumni. Feedback on the curriculum was solicited and obtained from key stakeholders, including employers, teachers, students, and alumni. The range of criteria utilized to gather the input was deliberately selected to highlight both the curriculum's strengths, which might be expanded upon, and its shortcomings, which would necessitate the implementation of corrective action. The parameters used made it possible to evaluate the curriculum's general and discipline-specific features.
